

Associate librarian and assistant for information appointed at BYU

PROVO — Two administrative changes have been made at Brigham Young University's Harold B. Lee Library.

A. Dean Larsen, assistant university librarian for collection development, has been promoted to associate university librarian, and Larry Ostler, director of the Ricks College Learning Resource Center, has joined the library as assistant librarian for information.

Larsen will continue his responsibilities collecting and caring for library materials and will assume the additional duty of acting for university Librarian Sterling J. Albrecht when he is absent.

Ostler will be responsible for a variety of areas, including reference services, building security, public relations and emergency procedures.

Larsen has been with the BYU library since 1956, when he began as assistant circulation librarian. He has served as documents librarian, serials librarian, head of the order department and assistant director of collection development.

He is a member of the American Library Association, Utah Library Association, historical societies of Montana, Wyoming and Utah, and the Western History Association. He earned a bachelor's degree at BYU and a master's at the University of Michigan.

Ostler was with Ricks College for 13 years. He previously taught social studies in Poway, Calif., and in Payson. He was a teaching assistant at BYU while working on a master's degree in library and information sciences and recently completed work at Nova University in Florida for a doctorate in education.

A. Dean Larsen

Larry Ostler

Region 8 and Region 7 t primed to open season

Spanish Fork Dons ready to rebound after early losses

By Lane Lindstrom
Deseret News staff writer

Undefeated Tim faces a formidable

By Sam Anderson
Deseret News correspondent

SPANISH FORK — Spanish Fork head football coach Dave Clark has been shaking his head in frustration the last three weeks.

And he has good reason to. His Dons have been out-

PROVO — Undefeated Timpvie will put its record on the line against what may be its toughest opponent yet as the T-Birds travel to American Fork to open the Region 7 season Friday. Kickoff time is set for 4 p.m.

After three weeks of practice games, all region schools will begin

